

The Healing Wisdom of Whole Herbs

Most standardized herbal supplements have been extracted to isolate one single chemical or constituent within an herb, thought by some to be the only important active ingredient. This is accomplished by using harsh, toxic chemical solvents like acetone and hexane, which isolate this constituent at the loss of dozens of other parts, fractionating the healing nature of the whole herb.

New Chapter believes that the healing wisdom comes from the synergy within the interaction of ALL natural constituents in the whole herb, not from one isolated part.

Supercritical Whole Herb Extraction

To preserve the concentrated healing synergy of the whole herb, New Chapter uses an innovative herbal extraction technology which uses natural carbon dioxide gas collected from the Eiffel mountains. Under a "super critical" amount of pressure, the process creates a CO₂ fluid that permeates all active lipophilic constituents and draws them out of the whole herb in their natural ratios, without high heat or toxic chemicals.

SUPER PURE

- No toxic chemical solvents
- No heat
- No environmentally harmful runoff

SUPER POTENT

CO₂ extracts concentrate whole herbs up to 250X

BROAD SPECTRUM

Extremely broad representation of the herb's most precious lipophilic constituents preserving the whole herb's synergistic benefits
